

Ekam: 9AM - 9PM

The space will be divided into three categories where the main event programmes will take place. Each space will be given a distinct name (for example, the main hall can be called Kaloji Praanganam). Similarly, the other areas will also be named. Each area will follow its own schedule, which will help keep people engaged simultaneously across different spaces.

1. The main hall (atrium) - this place will be used for interviews

Time window: 9:00 AM to 9:00 PM

Each interview: 45 minutes

Gap after each interview: 15 minutes

Total 12 sessions

(if we close the interviews by 6PM, we get 9 sessions)

2. The outside area - this place will be used for activities

- Networking programme from psychic (morning 2-3hrs)
- Presenting books to influencers (1-2hrs)
- Dare game (1-2hrs)
- Great literature and great cinema an interactive session with both teams (2hrs)
- Instead of music band we can go with anthyakshari with audience dividing them into two groups (cinema vs saahityam), creates more fun and vibe

We can add few more into this activity area

3. The screening room - this place will be used for workshops

Considering the time available, we can conduct six workshops of 2 hours each throughout the day.

Apart from these three spaces, we will have a bay area featuring food and art & craft stalls, along with a poetry wall at the main entrance.

Each person from both teams will be assigned specific tasks. Very importantly, only a limited group will function as the think tank to ensure clarity and avoid confusion.

Aditya, Madhav, Dhandi, Subbu, Uday, and Kavanamali will be the designated think-tank members.

Any discussions related to Ekam events and planning should be conducted only with these individuals to maintain smooth coordination and avoid unnecessary clumsiness.
